Where does your jumper, your clothes, your bag, your hat come from? Join us for a hands-on sustainability workshop exploring the journey of Wool, Bamboo, Cotton and Reeds through Play, Creativity and Discovery.

- Sustainability and Natural Fibres: Exploring how natural fibres such as wool, bamboo, cotton and raffia are grown, harvested and transformed into everyday products.
- Cultural Identity and Inclusion: Recognising that fibres are connected to culture, Country and community. Exploring how different cultures, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, have traditionally used natural fibres.
- Inquiry and Wellbeing: Using fibre-based experiences to support sensory exploration, scientific inquiry, creativity and systems thinking, through hands-on, child-led activities.

This workshop is sponsored by
City of Cockburn.

Tickets for educators within the City of Cockburn are $5 and $20
for educators outside the City.
